THESINGAPORE CHAMBER OF COM MERCE AND THE CURRENCY QUESTION.

Thi following is the debate on the currency question which took place at the half-yearly meeting of the Singapore Chamber of Commerce

Camel and Friegraf-anold that an important market—the largest market stager from Tientsin -went for 11 mile, the for silver in the East-will for a longer or shorter finite about. 'Opinions are of the most contrary character, but whatever extent silver may full, one thing is cortain, that it will have a very disturbing effect on the trade between this Colony and India Taking the returns for 1891, the trade between this Colony and India was $32 500,000; of that $23,500,000 were imports, and these of course will be very adversely affected. Of your imports the principal article is a lum. We know that the quantity of opium this year to be offered, for sale is considerably less than that in the year just closed. Under any circumstances the price of opium is likely to rise, and if you aid tothat the off-of of the alteration in exchanges hat he early bird catches the worm I can only between I udis and here, the result may probably be a very serious decline in the public revenue of the colony, so much as that it may possibly lead to the necessity of imposing that which it has never yet been necessary to introduce into these Settlements, direct taxation. I not that forward as a point which deserves to be taken into consideration. another large itemis that of rice, which will be equally aff cled sthough no doubt in course of time fresh supplies would appear, the bishus would be filled from countries to the eastward. It is nonse entering into any discussion as to the policy pursued by India, or as to questions The competition of Saturday last for the long and theories connected with bimetallism. The one point we have to consider is whother the 809 900 Not H'cap Grand change contemplated in India will injuriously affect our trade, and whether we can take any steps to protect ourselves W.e are aware that exchange between these Settlements and silver countries is on a fixed basis. Taking a series of years, the last twenty for instance, the variations o" exchange with India do not amount to more than 21 per cent., while between this and China it is even less On the other hand the change in the same period on ... Ungland is 4/6 to 2/104 (the avarage for 1892). With Java it has varied from 261 to 1.70. I find from figures taken out for met that the total trade of the Colony with gold-currency countries, planing Netherlands India in that category, was 2113,285,000 and with silver ourseney downtries $118,000,000, and if you ald to that, if this alteration in India is carried out, and if you transfer India from a silver to a gold country, you get's tetal of $145,750,000 and with diver countries 345.500,000. From species figures are emitted he value of bullion and of inter-Settlement trade. And it has been suggested that this fixity of value which applies to trade with silver countries should be apand sonsternation of this man in charge they plied to gold countries, that is to say that the Chinese trader should be asked to share with the European merchant the inconvenience and uncertainty which attends the fluctuations of exchange. The manner in which t is proposed that this should be done would be to revert to the legal tender which was the only legal tender in these Settlements until the transfer in 1867, namely the rupes, and that to the rupes should be attached a fixity of value, which I saw the other day placed as low as 1/3, and that, with the moneuro of this coin, we should transact our daily business. The Mexican dollar would of course flow in and out. both for imports and exports, as roadily as now and would form the medium of exchange with the neighbouring silver countries. Such a system exists in Shanghal, where the currency is syose, and yet Mexican dollars are sent up country mand of the market. A good many years ago, on the west coast of Sumatra, the Carolus dollar was the only one taken and it was bought at a large premium, so as to en_ble the Chinese and others to parchase crops. And quite recently we know Mexicans have been taken for the same purpose at a considerable premium.

I have here a table of the principal countries with which we are trading, namely,

Netherlands India, and I have taken these figures for the last 20 years. Our trade in Netherlands India in 1871 was $5,000,000. In 1973 it had risen to $14,500,000; but that and nothing to do with the question of exchange, which was practically the same. Those of us who were residents in the Colony at that time know that it was in consequence of the first introduction of steam communication—of Chinese first becoming the owners of steam-v-rels. Then in 1877 the dollar having fallen i n 4/42 to 4/03 the trade was $13,625,000, somewhat lower. In 1881 the trade was $24,750,000, the dollar having fallen, 3d., and in 1887 although the dollar had fallen auother 7d. the trade had increased to $25,000,000. In 1889, which may be described as one of the bumper years of trade, the amount was 833,500,000, the exchange being 3/14, and in 1891 it was $33,750,000, exchange being 3/35. I name these figures to show that the fluctuations of our trade and its increase is not entirely a matter of exchange, and if you regarded this place, as it undoubtedly is as a distributing contre, it seems probable that what traders would less upon the one hand in the fixity of value they would gain in another in the matter of experts. But at, our back there are the Native States and these Native States have grown enormously. It is said that their prosperity, and it doubtless is so, is due to a large extent to the decline of the dollar in gold. I do not wish to trouble you with any more statistics, but to show how this trade and revenue has Japanese despite compulsory vaccination, but so He has lately been rather thin and his retire by which it is surrounded. I might say to you grown, in 1842 that of Perak was $905,335, in 1891 it was $1,300,000. Selangor in 1882 was $300.500, in 1891 it was $1,800,000, and with respect to that I would print out that the increase has taken place with a gradually doclining dollar and to the lowest point of 3/32. and further, let me add, in the scheme put forward at home there is no proposit at all to advance the fixity of value above 3/-, or even lower. There are of course many difficulties in connection with this matter as Hose went together for 12 mile in 341 1.81. currency is a very delicate one, probably the was pointed out by Mr. Adamson at the meeting of the Straits Sattlements Association in London, but one point seems to me to be necassary for this Chamber to take into consideration, would the Government be justified in changing a correspon which has been in existeaper for 70 years and what would be the effect? This matter of currency has received a good deal of attention from time to time on the part of the authorities, and when Sir Bercules Robinson in 1876 reported on the whole question of transferring this Colony this matter amount others was taken into coneideration, and he pointed out that by custom been the standard of value in the Straits Settlements and all other poins regarded as more bullion and he went on to show that in 1854 when the Government of India took steps with the idea of foreing the rupes into currency in this Colony it was not until representations had been made at home that such an ill-advised part, that a good many of the difficulties would be removed if by some manner of means. suggestion of the rapes has been made because behind it there is the gold standard of India. All these are very serious questions, and need to be carefully considered before any attempt is made to take a step in the direction which has been indicated at home. I would conclude what

Mr. MULILAY said - Before proceeding to second the resolutions which have been proposed by the Chairman I would like to make a few remarks. There are no doubt many amongst you would like to son the Chamber commit itself to a positive declaration against ony change in the our rency of this colony, and there are also others who would wish, should any change be made in the monetary system in India, to make a change in our local currency. The matter has no doubt, been studied by many of you, but it has not been before the Colony for any length of time, and I think the Chamber need not dominit itself at mesent by giving the weight of its recommendation either in one direction or the other. The a sound resolution to be proposed to you goes as fir. I think, as we can possibly go. Speaking persometh I think we must have very cogent read of railway netween the tinner and of the permanently sheet when leaving Shanghai; fresh monson and some for making any change. We all know the Settlements are not producers, and therefore what we expert is first imported by ne. What effect, we all naturally ask, will a gold currency, or a flotitious silver currency -a currency not based on the intrinsic value of its legal tender-have on those countries which send us the goods we export? If I may express an opinion I should say very little any at all, provided the Mexican dollar is allowed to be imported and dealt in as a commodity. A dealer sending as goods from, say Rhio, would under a gold currency or a fictious silver currency get less money in that ourrency but he would be able to exchange his legal money for the Mexican dollar current in his district, and in so exchanging would regain in out of the straight. This was due to a crack or "sheer" which crossed the railway bank at an angle of about 18 degrees exactly at the place where each crack had been contracted. This crack, it appears, bears a little east of the meridian, passes through the old basear near Chaman fort, and, according to native reports, extends across the main range of the Khwaja Amran, eighteen miles away. The fact clearly established by the shortening of the railway track is that the carth's crust has contracted 24 feet in the vicinity of the Khojak. This will be good news for those scientists who are on the watch for facts to support the theory of the gradual contraction of the earth. The evidence is indisputable, and the photographs taken on the spot show'exactly how the rails were twisted ()N
